allmore down a couple of posts below is a guy who tucked his junk in.

Just letting you know so you do not get too excited over a guy trying to make you look foolish. He deleted two posts I made in there.

Yeah I figured. Doesn't fuzz me off too much either way.

didn't want to make any comments as to offend anyone. I mean like IF I were wrong.

but something about the belly tipped me off.

Same here. Plus I didn't want to freak out anyone who was getting all hot thinking it was a pussy.

I was tipped off my the belly, shape of the hips, and way his legs were in all the pics.

The leg hair was also a dead giveaway.

not necessarily.
women DO have leg hair too.
so i wouldn't say that's a determining factor.

as for this case,
I don't know,
and frankly, I don't care.

well as they like to tell me girls don't have hair like guys do..so it's not the presence of the hair but the nature of it that would be a giveaway.

part of the womans figure I like so much is the slight swelling just above the hips leading down to the vagina. Those photos had that sucking in tucked look I remember from the movie Silence of the Lambs.

Okay, but the pic is different and the skin tone is different.

You swiped a pic and tried to pass it off as you..

HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA.

Convincing would be doing the same poses, minus the leglock. Something that can be easily compared.

Everything about that picture looks different from the first ones you posted...

One way to stop the drama might be to post a picture like the one you did earlier standing up with your legs spread but with a peace of paper covering your chest (needs to be alittle further away) saying something like "happy now" or some such. However if you are a guy just laugh it off and yell VAGINA MAN ATTACKS. Vagina man is such a funny thing. Don't worry we have all done it.
